

MASJID EL-SALAAM

ETHERIAN OF PURE ENERGY

Everyone seeks facts, truth and confirmation. No one can really endure on blind faith or hopes. Throughout history, science has come up with new facts and supported it with evidence and proved it. When people believed that the earth was flat and the earth was the center of the universe, science disagreed, with evidence. But the general public was too scared to support those ideas, as the power of religion was greater at that time. Whoever disagreed with the religious beliefs and the belief in God was assumed as trying to attack religion and was put through terrible punishments. Copernicus and Galileo are some of the few that suffered at the hands of the Church for finding and telling the truth. Ask yourself this question, who is your mother? She comes to mind because you know who she is. Now who is your creator, God, Lord, Allah, Rabb, Jah, Yahweh? No exact image comes to mind. One is fact and the other is fiction until confirmed. There is no limitation in finding facts when you compare religion to the scientific method of “Prove It.”

Where did you come from? Your parents who came from theirs. That’s how its done with animals plants humans and the universe. Now the same question can be posed to religions. When people say a God does exist, it must mean that he physically exists. And if there is a physical god, he must be made up of some kind of material or particles like everything else. Maybe it is a supernatural particle we do not know about, but physical still. So where did that come from? It had to come from somewhere. How was god created in the first place? Yes he is supposed to be powerful and the ultimate force but where did that come from?

Physically, we know ourselves very well. For example, our height and weight, the colors of our skin and hair, or the shape of our eyes. We also know for certain our place and date of birth, where we live, and what we do for a living. Bu this does not mean we know ourselves enough. More than that, We are required to recognize our own nature, character, habits, and personality. These qualities actually form our self-worth. Do you know there is a difference between who you are by nature and what you accept by nature, whether you are African, Chinese, Japanese, Indian, Portuguese or Russian? In this study we are referring to Africans.

Now, as to what you have accepted that is, what you allowed yourself to transform into in your mind, in your belief system, or religion even to the point where you have been removed from your own place of origin now called Africa. You now accept or believe that you are other than yourself and nature. Even to the point where you live by the laws of those who think differently than you do. Many Africans in America have mix with other races and said I'm not African I'm Indian of this or that tribe or they claim to be Muslim, Hebrew, Jamaican or the likes. This is what you've become not who you are by nature. So you can say you're not African all you wish.

The mind reflects what its environment feed it, just as the body reflects the food you feed it. Have you ever thought what kind of person you would be had you grew up in some foreign country instead of that you are living now? What kind of food would you like? Would you preferences for clothing be the same? What kind of work would you be doing? As a saying goes: "You are a product of your environment". Mark it well. Environment shape us, makes us think the way we do. Try to name just one habit or one mannerism you have which you did not pick up from other people. Relatively minor things, like the way we walk, the way we talk, hold a cup; our preferences for music, literature, religion, entertainment and clothing – all seem in very large part from environment.

More importantly, the size of your thinking, your attitudes, your goals, and your very personality is formed by your environment. Lengthened association with pessimistic people makes us think pessimistic; When you stick with lots of people with great knowledge, you'll "automatic" gain lots of knowledge when you're with them, and even better, they'll change your habits to go out and seek for more knowledge. On a brighter note, companionship with people with big ideas raises the level of our thinking; close contact with motivated people give us ambition. What can we do as Africans in America to make our future environment pay off in satisfaction and prosperity? In the book entitled "Selected writings and speeches of Marcus Garvey it states on pg. 39 it states: "The world has reached the turning point of humanity, when each race will travel in its own

Each race is a genetic code of vibration you cannot be other than what and who you are. Africans in America need their own environment where they should be given the fullest opportunity to develop politically, socially, industrially, spiritually, mentally, intellectually, and physically

Africans cannot grow and be transformed without a natural and proper environment within which to develop ourselves. Individual efforts of transformation only work minimally and are ultimately doomed to failure because of the absence of the transformational shroud offered by the environment. Until we place ourselves within the confines of an environment that feeds our natural growth, that provides moral guidance and nourishes us with knowledge of truth, we cannot grow to a higher form. We must have an educational system that gives our children right knowledge about themselves and their ultimate human potential. If they are taught that their greatest assets are their physical characteristics, they will emphasize those physical characteristics as their agenda. If they value sports and play more than intellect and ideas we will continue to produce gang bangers and/or sports players rather than scholars and builders

We understand that once in our own environment every life born has a responsibility of helping to construct the cocoon which would serve as an environment of growth for generations yet unborn. The monuments, symbols and rituals which were developed were intended to offer people a much larger vision of their lives as well as reconnect them with their ancestors. We've built pyramids and temples of learning and now have resorted to skyscrapers and teaching laboratories. We use to see the Universe as our home as oppose to a small mansion in Beverly hills, as our dwelling place. At this point in time what is the sense of staying in America and becoming presidents, governors, mayors, congressman, judges, industrial leaders and senators. If you don't know by now let Abraham Lincoln tell you why.

September 18th, 1858 at Charleston Illinois

Abraham Lincoln Quote: “I will say then that I am not, nor ever have been in favor of bringing about in anyway the social and political equality of the white and black races – that I am not nor ever have been in favor of making voters or jurors of Negroes, nor of qualifying them to hold office, nor to intermarry with white people; and I will say in addition to this that there is a physical difference between the white and black races which I believe will forever forbid the two races living together on terms of social and political equality. And inasmuch as they cannot so live, while they do remain together there must be the position of superior and inferior, and I as much as any other man am in favor of having the superior position assigned to the white race. I say upon this occasion I do not perceive that because the white man is to have the superior position the negro should be denied everything.” by: Abraham Lincoln

(1809-1865) 16th US President

Then again on August 14th, 1862 at Washington dc

“Your race are suffering, in my judgment, the greatest wrong inflicted on any people. But even when you cease to be slaves, you are yet far removed from being placed on an equality with the white race. You are cut off from many of the advantages which the other race enjoy. The aspiration of men is to enjoy equality with the best when free, but on this broad continent, not a single man of your race is made the equal of a single man of ours. Go where you are treated the best, and the ban is still upon you.”

This coming from the president that supposedly freed us from slavery. Guess again! How can we prosper and grow in this kind of environment? How can we be transformed into who and what we are by nature when this kind of mind state is present? It has become time again for us to return to our true and holy nature as Negroids (Africans). We are the mothers and fathers, the root race of all races, the civilizers of all others and if fact gods of the earth, who must be raised from, mental death like a mummy is raised to everlasting life. This is why we must return to our own. The adverse forces of all others is not for us, nor is their belief system, this can kill our energy and motivation. Caucasians will pay Negroids to make sounds that will cut them off of their own energy or make them kill. The music industry will only allow tones which they can use against you, and further his plans of opening up the underworld and giving over Negroids souls to carnivorous flesh eaters. Africans were the first humans created or incarnated or materialized on this abode. We vibrate with natural nature. THE TIME IS NOW!

FROM THE SONS OF THE GREEN LIGHT

MASJID EL-SALAAM

1625 N.PEARL ST

